HUGE NUMBER FISH PLANTED ALTA. WATERS

Lakes and Rivers Plentifully Supplied With Fingerlings, Fry

During the last fishing season a total of 1,500,000 fingerlings, and 700,000 fry were distributed in 130 Alberta waters, according to R. T. Todd, chief of the provincial government fisheries branch. The distribution was made with the co-operation of the railways, the municipal hatcheries and the various fish and game leagues.

This year, similar operations are being planned, stated Mr. Todd. In preparation for this, 600,000 specially bred trout eggs, 500,000 rainbow trout eggs and 450,000 cutthroat trout eggs have been sent to the Banff hatchery for hatching, while 200,000 rainbow trout eggs have been sent to the Jasper hatchery. In addition 80,000 rainbow trout and 400,000 cutthroat trout have been forwarded to the Waterton hatchery.

JASPER HATCHERY
In the 1934 season, the Jasper hatchery supplied 120,000 rainbow trout fry which were distributed into 11 waters in the Jasper-Edmonton territory, including tributaries of the Sundance, Macleod and Loblaw rivers and Snake Lake.

From Banff 210,000 No. 1 cutthroat fingerlings and 190,000 No. 2 fingerlings were distributed in 23 waters including tributaries of the Bow, Elbow and Highwood rivers, while 146,340 rainbow trout fingerlings and 303,000 No. 2 rainbow fingerlings were distributed from Banff to various waters including the Clearwater, Sheep Creek, Bow, Elbow, Highwood and the Man river.

BROWN TROUT
Of brown trout, 100,000 advanced fry were distributed in 11 waters, while 100,000 fingerlings were distributed in 12 waters, including the Clearwater, Sheep Creek, Bow, Elbow, Highwood and the Man river.

Many fingerlings and advanced fry were distributed in 23 waters, including the Clearwater, Sheep Creek, Bow, Elbow, Highwood and the Man river. A total of 15 lakes were examined to see if the fingerlings were doing well and 78 lakes are scheduled for examination this year.

Rockefeller's estate was estimated at $9,397,847, the highest in 1934 at $10,000,000.

ALMAUSEMENTS

CAPITOL

Fingerlings who have been looking for the spotlight, romance, those who seek drama, and those who seek a very promising commercial actor in the future, will find them in the simple, human, down-to-earth, "The Farmer Takes a Wife," which opened at the Capitol theatre yesterday.

The picture stars Janet Gaynor in the role of the beautiful and tender love story. It has been her privilege to play; it exhibits for the first time the superior talents of the screen's new romantic sensation, Henry Fonda, and it tells a magnificent tale in a style that will leave you troubled and strangely happy in its close.

"The Farmer Takes a Wife" deals with the turbulent romance and vitality of the Erie Canal scene in the early 1850s, and draws in a dramatic conflict from the love of a boy fresh from the farmhands for a girl who was attached to the city.

The picture abounds in beautiful acted character bits, but those most worthy of mention are the parts played by Ray Somerville, Andy Devine, Roger Imhof, Jane Withers and Margaret Hamilton.

STRAND

With the release of "Paris in Spring," which comes today to the Strand theatre, a new romantic and stirring drama is launched to the public. The picture, which is a lovely, dark-haired stage star, is the feminine half of the picture, current ideal of the screen, the masculine.

"Paris in Spring" is full of the impetuous ardor which characterizes romance in the beautiful film by the Seine. Carmichael and Miss Ellis are a pair of people who really love each other but who just don't admit it. Ida Lupino and Charles Blakely, in the supporting cast, are another such pair.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

By Dan Thomas

You may have been in Wall Street, or in the office of a busy executive, or in the home of a famous actress, but you have never seen the inside of a movie colony. The only thing that counts here is what you see now. If you're a star, you're somebody; if you're not, you're not. What you see or might have been seen by the public is what counts.

BRITAIN CUTS STEEL DUTIES

LONDON, Aug. 8.—As a sequel to a new five-year agreement between the British steel industry and a continental steel cartel, the British treasury Tuesday announced a reduction of import duties on iron and steel to 20 per cent. at value.

These duties will be effective for five months. The agreement, which is expected to have wide influence as a model for similar action for other industries, notably cotton, becomes operative Aug. 8.

ATE LANS by BILL LEWIS

JUST back from a holiday trip that took him through four National parks in Canada and the United States, Coach J. Percy Page, of the Commercial Grads, takes exception to a story emanating from Calgary which concerns the team's proposed trip to the Olympic Games next year.

In order to put the facts straight in the minds of all followers of the club, he issued the following statement last night:

"The dispatch is entirely premature, and came about as a result of a private conversation I had with the sporting editor of the Alberta Free Press, who was passing through Calgary a few days ago. I am surprised that Mr. Scott's view on the matter is so widely reported, as I have never been before. I had an opportunity to discuss the matter with our own executive or to give it to the local press.

The facts are as follows: The day before I left on my holiday—about two weeks ago—I received a copy of a letter to the Canadian Basketball Association from the president of the International Amateur Basketball Federation. The letter was an invitation to send a team to the Olympic Games next year, and to play a series of games with the best teams on that continent.

Mr. Scott's view on the matter is as follows: He is an official event on next year's games, there will be no team sent to the Olympics. He is disappointed with the letter, but he is sure that the F.B.I. will not be able to obtain a team to go to the Olympic Games. He is sure that the F.B.I. will not be able to obtain a team to go to the Olympic Games.

"Our series of games with St. Louis will take place about the middle of October and next month. The St. Louis team is a highly rated one, and will be a real test for us. We will be in the American final by a matter of only six points."

THIS seems like a basketball game, but it is not. It is a game of the mind, and it is a game of the mind.

An earthquake moved a tree-lined highway a mile from its original position in Kansas province, China, in December, 1920.

KING LEVINSKY Shastas Win Second Game From Calgary

Glen Wilkie Pitches Fine Brand of Ball to Give Locals Victory

Given a fine brand of hurling by Glen Wilkie, Shastas Royals marked up their second straight victory over Calgary Pucksters at Renshaw Park last night. The locals won the contest by a margin of 4-2, the identical score by which they took the initial battle on Tuesday.

Wilkie duplicated the brilliant pitching of Buck Eaton in the opening game of the series by turning in another four-hit job. Not having worked the mound for some weeks, Wilkie was in rare fettle, and he gave up but one run, and he gave up but one run, and he gave up but one run.

Walker does well. Bill Walker, center-half artist, who has been pitching more years than he cares to remember, opposed Wilkie on the hill and came through with a grand performance. He limited the Shastas to an even half-dozen blows, walked only one, and he gave up but one run.

Reg Moon led the local attack with hits in three times at bat, while Cliff Robinson got two for four.

Box score: Pucksters 4 R 10 P 4. Shastas 2 R 2 P 4.

Shastas: Robinson, C; Walker, P; Eaton, 1B; Wilkie, 2B; Moon, 3B; Shastas, 4B; Robinson, 5B; Robinson, 6B; Robinson, 7B; Robinson, 8B; Robinson, 9B.

Joe Louis Winner In Opening Round Over Fish Peddler

Kingfish Pleads for Mercy and Referee McGarrity Stops Fight After Two Minutes 21 Seconds of Action Last Night

COMISKEY PARK, Chicago, Aug. 8.—King Levinsky last night went the way of all flesh that has counted the lethal blows of Joe Louis, Detroit's sensational brown bomber.

After two minutes and 21 seconds of fighting, Levinsky, battered to the floor three times, squatted on the ropes of the ring and pleaded for mercy. Chicago's glorified fish peddler, hopelessly beaten in those exciting two minutes, sat on the bottom rope of the ring in a neutral corner and appealed to Norman McGarrity to stop the battle.

"Don't let him hit me again. I am through," Levinsky pleaded through chalk-like lips.

Louis, fighting savagely from the start, stood immobile in mid-fight, waiting for Levinsky to get up as he gave the respite of Comiskey Park, home of the White Sox, that held 60,000 bewildered spectators.

Helped to His Corner

Referee McGarrity took the beaten Levinsky by the arm and helped him to his corner and into the arms of his stunned handlers.

Thus the battle, scheduled to go 10 rounds, ended.

From the start it was obvious that Levinsky, who had fought them all, belonged to the past. In those dramatic few minutes, Levinsky landed only one solid punch, a long right that landed harmlessly behind Louis' ear.

Louis' first half dozen punches landed on the half-frightened Levinsky's head and knocked him on his haunches. He regained his feet at the count of two, only to be knocked to the canvas again for the count of five.

Another barrage of vicious punches dropped him for the third time for another count of five.

In desperation Levinsky attempted to escape, but Louis knocked him sagging into the ropes. As Levinsky began to sag, Louis ripped two cruel left hooks to the body. By this time Levinsky was backed into the corner and he calmly dropped his weary 175-pound frame to the bottom rope and sat there. Then he began mumbling his plea of mercy to the referee.

Beats Max Baer's Time

Louis' victory will go into the record books as a technical knockout. In stopping the Chicago wallpaper in two minutes and 21 seconds, Louis accomplished a quicker victory than Max Baer, who knocked the Kingfish unconscious in two minutes and 53 seconds of the second round of their battle in the Chicago stadium last December.

The sudden ending of the battle stunned the great crowd. The spectators could hardly believe that Levinsky, who had unflinchingly waded into Tommy Loughran, Mickey Walker, Primo Camera, Jack Sharkey, Max Baer three times, even Jack Dempsey, without fear, could fall so easily victim to the dynamite from Detroit.

An easy victim to the dynamite from Detroit.

The screaming spectators had been on their feet since he was knocked down the first time. When Levinsky was led to his corner a great groan swept the crowd, then cheers broke out for the 21-year-old negro who in 24 professional fights in 15 months had chalked up 30 spectacular knockouts. Levinsky was his 20th victim.

The poker-faced Louis, standing in mid-fight while his beaten foe was being led to his corner, accepted the cheers of the crowd with no emotion. He stood there, his face expressionless, while referee McGarrity raised his right arm.

Levinsky, still dazed when he reached his dressing room, grunted: "It was an accident, that might happen to anybody."

Hopes to Fight Maxie

Louis, happy over his victory, said the blow which knocked Levinsky down the first time was a left hook to the jaw, and the other punches that floored the Kingfish were rights to the head.

"I hope Mr. Baer will now fight me," Louis exclaimed. "I think I have convinced everybody that I can take it. Levinsky only hit me one punch during the fight and that never hurt."

The bomber expects to be matched with Max Baer, former heavyweight champion of the world, perhaps within 24 hours for a bout in New York, probably on Sept. 26. Negotiations for the fight under the promotion of Mike Jacobs, head of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club, were in progress last night. Anil Hoffman, manager of Baer, was a spectator at the ring-side.

MISS VAN WIE QUITTING GOLF

LACONIA, Pa., Aug. 6.—Virginia Van Wier announced Wednesday she is retiring from competitive golf and will not defend her United States Women's title, which she has held for three straight years.

Miss Van Wier is one of the few youthful stars who rose to the heights in her sport. She defeated J. T. Brown, retiring president of the great Glenna Colclough Club in 1932 to win her first National title, best Helen Hicks in the 1933 final and Dorothy Traugott last year.

Escobar Wins From Santos

MONTREAL, Aug. 8.—Sixto Escobar of Puerto Rico won a 12-round decision over Pete Santos of Uruguay last night in a fight sanctioned by the Montreal Athletic commission as being for the bantamweight championship of the world. Escobar weighed 118 and Santos 117.

JOE LOUIS Eaton Trophy Goes To Saskatoon Man

W. D. Gunning Is Winner Of Visitors' Event at Annual Tourney

W. D. Gunning of Saskatoon won the 7. Eaton trophy Wednesday when he captured the Visitors' competition of the eighth annual Alberta lawn bowling tournament in progress here.

The doubles competition, for the Edmonton Journal trophy, was won by R. Smellie and R. Shore.

Over 100 members of the Alberta Lawn Bowling Association and their friends attended the banquet held in connection with the eighth annual provincial tournament at the Corona Hotel Wednesday evening.

J. D. Svallovel, of Montreal, president of the Canadian Lawn Bowling Association, was the guest speaker of the evening and he congratulated the Alberta association for their remarkable increase in membership during the past few years, being particularly pleased by Edmonton's showing. City of Toronto Match to Require Shoot-off in Deciding Winner

LONG BRANCH, Ont., Aug. 8.—Forced to their best, four snipers, three from Ontario and the fourth from the Pacific coast, shot their way into a tie here Wednesday for leadership in the rich City of Toronto match at the annual meeting of the Ontario Rifle Association.
